Symmetry and Perturbation Theory

SPT 2002

Cala Gonone, Sardinia, 19–26 May 2002

First Announcement

A new SPT conference, after those held in Torino (1996), Roma (1998), and Cala Gonone (2001), will be held again in Cala Gonone (Sardinia, Italy) on 19–26 May 2002. The conference will take place, like the previous one of this series, in the three-stars Hotel Villaggio Palmassera.

The full cost of attending the conference, including full board in single room at Hotel Palmassera and the conference fee, will range around 400 Euro (300 Euro in double room). A reduced conference fee will be available to students and to participants from developing countries.

We expect all participants will fully cover their travel and living expenses; should funds become available to offer financial support to some participant, priority will be given to those from less favoured countries and young students.

Full information on the conference and related matters (accommodation, fees, travel to Cala Gonone) and a registration form are available on the conference web page
